

REAL FAMILY VALUES

Nothing is more important than creating a future in which our children and their children can live in peace and prosperity. Our parents were willing to sacrifice to prepare for our generation. Now we must look ahead and prepare our nation for coming changes. We cannot ignore the end of cheap oil, global warming, or the massive budget deficit. But must instead do all we can to prepare for them. Real family values mean sacrificing for a brighter future for our children and our nation.

HONOR AND DUTY

My son joined the Air Force after 9/11 to help defend our nation. In 2004 he received his absentee ballot early and noticed our representative was running unopposed. He called to tell me, and asked me to run so people would have a choice. I thought voters in this district deserved at least that. The more I talk to people, the more convinced I am that they deserve a lot more. They deserve honesty and commitment, and the tools to create the American Dream.

Jerry McNerney

Committed to America's future

A recognized expert in wind energy engineering, Jerry runs a small energy business.

I am deeply concerned by the direction the current political leadership is taking our nation. The massive federal budget deficit is making the United States the greatest debtor nation in the history of the world. Yet the average citizen has nothing to show for it.

We're on track to spend two trillion dollars and thousands more lives in Iraq—a war we didn't need to fight. At the same time, we are under-funding the real struggle against terrorism and short-changing our veterans.

And, right here in San Joaquin County, we have the worst air pollution in the country. One in six children has asthma. Yet our Congressman voted against raising emission standards on automobiles.

We need new leadership. Leadership not tainted by corruption. Leadership that cares about people and will make America work the way it can and should. This is why I'm running for Congress.

WORKING FOR A BETTER FUTURE

When Americans believe in our future, we can make that future happen. America is still a land of immense resources and vast opportunities. But to realize our true potential, to build a firm foundation for the future, we have to plan and invest wisely.

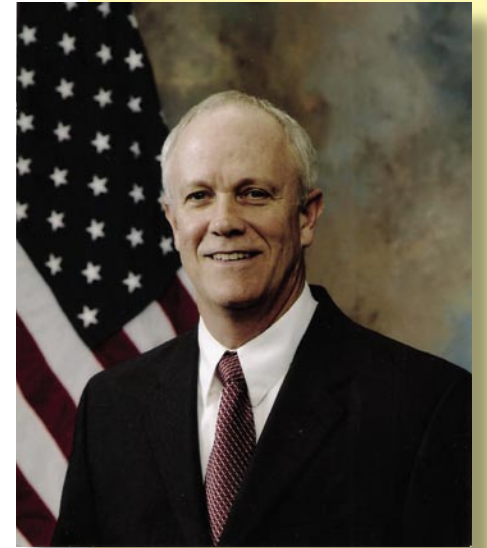

We have to build new industries that can compete in a tough global economy. We need a health care system that won't bankrupt our businesses and provides affordable care for every American. And we must commit to providing the best education possible to prepare our workforce for the challenges of the 21st century. We can still control our own destiny, but the clock is ticking: we must act now.

WORKING FOR ALL OF US

The promise of a better life has been the secret to America's success. To keep that promise alive, we have to roll up our sleeves and get to work. Stop the polarization and corruption in Washington. Pull together to tackle our real problems. And make sure we have a future we can be proud to pass on to our children. This is what I am committed to.

LET'S GET TO WORK

If you believe, as I do, that we can work together and make a difference in our country's future. I ask you to join me. And help build the kind of future our country and our district deserve.

In 2004, with strong grassroots support, Jerry received more votes than any previous challenger to Rep. Richard Pombo.
